The Fund assets were allocated in 2017 in medium-term sovereign and corporate bonds with duration (simply speaking: average term to maturity) of approximately 2.5 years. As regards credit quality, the Fund’s bond investments went to bonds in so-called ‘investment rating zone’ (i.e., rating BBB-/Baa3 and better). Acquired have been bonds denominated in CZK and EUR; however, hedging against exchange rate risk has been applied in respect of a significant portion of such foreign currency assets.

We conducted our audit in accordance with the Act on Auditors and Auditing Standards of the Chamber of Auditors of the Czech Republic, which are International Standards on Auditing (ISAs), as amended by the related application guidelines. Our responsibilities under this law and regulation are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Act on Auditors and the Code of Ethics adopted by the Chamber of Auditors of the Czech Republic and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Information in the Annual Report

In compliance with Section 2(b) of the Act on Auditors, the other information comprises the information included in the Annual Report other than the financial statements and auditor's report thereon. The Board of Directors of Raiffeisen investiční společnost a.s. is responsible for the other information.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information. In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. In addition, we assess whether the other information has been prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with applicable law or regulation, in particular, whether the other information complies with law or regulation in terms of formal requirements and procedure for preparing the other information in the context of materiality, i.e. whether any non-compliance with these requirements could influence judgments made on the basis of the other information.

Responsibilities of the Board of Directors and Supervisory Board of Raiffeisen investiční společnost a.s. for the Financial Statements

The Board of Directors of Raiffeisen investiční společnost a.s. is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting regulations applicable in the Czech Republic and for such internal control as the Board of Directors determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of Raiffeisen investiční společnost a.s. is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Supervisory Board of Raiffeisen investiční společnost a.s. is responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the above law or regulation, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors' use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the Board of Directors and the Supervisory Board of Raiffeisen investiční společnost a.s. regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

2. IMPORTANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Transaction date

Depending on the transaction type, the transaction dates refer to, without limitation:

- dates of payment or receipt of cash;
- dates of purchase or sale of foreign currencies, and/or securities;
- dates of payments;
- dates of crediting (value date) of funds as shown in the account statement;
- trade dates and settlement dates of spot transactions, i.e., purchase or sale of financial instruments or commodities with such delivery dates, where the period from the trade date to the settlement date does not exceed five days;
- trade dates and settlement dates of derivative transactions.

The accounting entity has opted that spot transactions (i.e., purchases and sales of financial assets with usual terms of delivery accounted for) should be reported as the relevant assets or liabilities on the trade date.

The Fund will derecognise any financial assets or any parts thereof from its balance sheet if it should lose control over any contractual title to such financial assets or any parts thereof. The Fund loses such control if it exercises any titles to benefits defined in the contract, if such titles expire or if such titles have been waived.

If a financial liability or any parts thereof expires (e.g., if a duty defined in the contract is fulfilled, cancelled or expired), the accounting entity will no longer report such financial liability or any parts thereof in its balance sheet. The difference between the value of the financial liability in the accounting books, and/or any parts thereof, that have expired or that have been transferred to another entity, and the amount of payment in respect of the debt in question, will be reported as costs or revenues.

(b) Securities

In compliance with the Fund strategy, all securities have been classified as securities valued at their fair value. Securities are re-valued on a daily basis during the financial year, pursuant to Decree no. 244/2013 Coll., of the Ministry of Finance of the Czech Republic, on detailed issues related to the Act on management companies and investment funds, as amended (hereinafter the "Decree"). Pursuant to the Decree, securities are valued with the help of prices derived from public markets, which may be further adjusted in keeping with the provisions of the Decree. If no market price is available, such value shall be applied as determined according to valuation models based on discounted future cash flows derived from the yield curve.

Upon their initial recognition, securities shall be valued at their acquisition cost. Such acquisition cost also includes direct transaction costs related to the acquisition of the securities. Such acquisition cost also includes direct transaction costs related to the acquisition of the securities.

Interest income

The term 'Interest income' means the following:

- a) as regards debt securities with coupon, the accrued coupon as determined in the issue terms and conditions and the accrued difference between the nominal value and the net purchase price, known as a premium or discount;
- b) as regards debt securities without coupon and bills of exchange, the accrued difference between the nominal value and the purchase price.

Interest income from debt securities is reported in the profit and loss account commencing on the purchase, using the effective interest rate method.

Derecognition of securities

Upon sales of securities, the accounting entity values such securities outflow making use of the 'Average Price Method'.

(c) Receivables and provisions

Operating receivables are reported in their nominal value net of provisions. Bad debts (receivables) shall be written off upon the completion of bankruptcy proceedings against the debtor or in the event that the likelihood of their recovery is not realistic.

Creation of provisions is reported as expenses; their usage is reported together with expenses or losses associated with the loss of assets in the Profit and Loss Account. Dilution of provisions that are no longer necessary shall be reported as income.

(d) Financial derivatives

Derivatives are financial instruments that meet the following conditions:

- a) their fair value varies depending on changes in interest rates, security prices, commodity prices, foreign exchange rates, price indices, credit assessments (ratings) or indices, and/or depending on any other variables (so-called underlying assets);
- b) as compared to other types of contracts, which show similar responses to changing market conditions, they require little or no initial investments;
- c) they will be settled in the future and the term from the trade date to settlement exceeds that of spot transactions.

Derivatives are reported in the balance sheet at their fair values. Positive fair values of derivatives are reported as assets under the title of 'Other assets'. Negative fair values of derivatives are reported as liabilities under the title of 'Other liabilities'.

The fair value of financial derivatives is determined as the present value of future cash flows from these transactions. The present value is determined with the help of parameters identified on the active market, such as exchange rates, interest rates for a given maturity based on the yield curve, etc.

In the off-balance sheet, derivatives are reported at contractual undiscounted values of the underlying instrument under the titles of 'Receivables from fixed term operations' and 'Liabilities from fixed term operations'.

(e) Funds invested by unit-holders

The Fund has no registered capital. The units have no determined nominal values. The Fund does not charge any share premium.

Capital funds

The selling price of units is determined as a ratio of the class equity and the number of issued units of that class. Units are sold to investors for selling prices determined on the daily basis.

(f) Creation of reserves

Reserves represent probable cash outflows of uncertain timing and amount. Reserves are charged to expenses in the amount, which represents the best estimate of expenditures required in order to settle existing liabilities.

Reserves are created subject to the fulfilment of the following criteria:

- a) an obligation to pay (legal or matter-of-fact) exists resulting from past events;
- b) it is probable or certain that an event of payment will occur and will require an outflow of resources representing economic benefits; the term 'probable' meaning probability greater than 50 percent;
- c) it is possible to make a reliable estimate of such payment.

(g) Foreign currency conversion

Transactions reported in foreign currencies are accounted for in the local currency, to be converted with the help of foreign exchange rates announced by the Czech National Bank and valid on the transaction days, i.e., on the accounting transaction dates.

Assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, together with foreign exchange spot transactions prior to the maturity date, are converted into the local currency at the exchange rate announced by the Czech National Bank and valid on the balance sheet date. The resulting profit or loss from such conversions of assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies, except for units denominated in foreign currencies, and/or items that serve to hedge currency risk resulting from agreements not yet recorded in the balance sheet of the Fund, or from anticipated future transactions, are reported in the profit and loss account as 'Profit or loss from financial operations'.

(h) Taxation

Tax due

The income tax base is calculated from profits for the current period before tax, increased by non-deductible expenses, less the revenues that are not subject to income tax, and further adjusted for tax allowances and any relevant credits. Under the applicable tax regulations, the income tax rate imposed on mutual funds amounts to 5 percent.

Deferred tax

Deferred tax is based on all temporary differences between accounting and tax values of assets and liabilities, using the expected tax rate for the following period. Deferred tax is accounted for only if there is no doubt that it will be realized in subsequent accounting periods.

(i) Interest received and interest paid and dividend income

Interest received and interest paid are reported on the accrual basis.

Dividend income is reported on the effective date of entitlement to receive its payment (ex-dividend date). Dividend income from domestic securities is reported after the deduction of the withholding tax. Dividend income from foreign securities is reported prior to the deduction of withholding tax.

The Fund has surrendered its entire assets to be managed by the Company. The item entitled 'Values placed under management' covers foreign and local securities, term deposits, as well as balances deposited on current accounts.

22. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS – MARKET RISK

The Fund is exposed to market risks arising from open positions in interest rate, equity and currency instrument transactions that are sensitive to changes in financial market conditions.

(a) Risk management

The basic risk management instrument is represented by imposing limits regarding the ratio of different types of financial instruments in the portfolio, which are determined in accordance with legal requirements, the Fund Prospectus, and its investment strategy. The key risks, which are evaluated on a daily basis, include foreign currency exposures and sensitivity to interest rate fluctuations.

Market risks are measured using the Value at Risk ("VaR") method. Value at Risk represents a potential loss resulting from unfavourable developments on the market within a certain time period and at a certain level of reliability. The 'Value at Risk' value is measured on the basis of a one-year holding period and a 99-percent reliability level.

(b) Liquidity risk

'Liquidity risk' represents the risk that the Fund will not have sufficient cash resources to meet its commitments associated with its financial contracts. Liquidity is monitored and managed on the basis of expected cash flows; in this context, the structure of the securities and the term deposits portfolio is adjusted.

The following tables sum up discrepancies related to the Fund assets and liabilities sensitive to interest rate fluctuations. The carrying amount of these assets and liabilities is included in the period, in which they mature or in which the interest rate changes occur, whichever comes first.
